

Congressional Representatives

Wisconsin

Sen. Herbert Kohl
Democrat

330 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510-4903

Sen. Russ Feingold
Democrat

506 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510-4904

Rep. David Obey

Democrat 2314 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515-4907

7th District

Rep. Ron Kind

Democrat 1406 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515-4903

3rd District

If you would like to use our sample letter to let your Congressional representatives know that you are against taxing credit unions, please select letters from the following pages and print. Then, all you need to fill in is your name, address, the date and sign at the bottom.*

Thank you for taking the time to address what has become a serious situation for all credit union member-owners!

*A sample letter is on page two.

Sample Letter

John Q. Member                    (your name and address here)
123 Anywhere Street
My Town, WI 12345
March 1, 2005            (the date you're mailing the letter)

Senator Herbert Kohl
330 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510-4903

Dear Senator Kohl:

Consumers deserve a choice among financial providers and we're asking you to see that credit unions remain one of those viable choices. I'm asking that you oppose any efforts to eliminate the federal tax exemption for credit unions.

There are millions of us, working Americans, who are members of credit unions and this would be an additional tax burden on all of us.

Credit unions were created to offer low cost financial services to all of their members, regardless of income. They are still fulfilling this mission today.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

(Don't forget to sign your name here!)

Senator Herbert Kohl
330 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510-4903

Dear Senator Kohl:

Consumers deserve a choice among financial providers and we're asking you to see that credit unions remain one of those viable choices. I'm asking that you oppose any efforts to eliminate the federal tax exemption for credit unions.

There are millions of us, working Americans, who are members of credit unions and this would be an additional tax burden on all of us.

Credit unions were created to offer low cost financial services to all of their members, regardless of income. They are still fulfilling this mission today.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Senator Russ Feingold
506 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510-4904

Dear Senator Feingold:

Consumers deserve a choice among financial providers and we're asking you to see that credit unions remain one of those viable choices. I'm asking that you oppose any efforts to eliminate the federal tax exemption for credit unions.

There are millions of us, working Americans, who are members of credit unions and this would be an additional tax burden on all of us.

Credit unions were created to offer low cost financial services to all of their members, regardless of income. They are still fulfilling this mission today.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Representative Ron Kind
1406 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515-4903

Dear Rep. Kind:

Consumers deserve a choice among financial providers and we're asking you to see that credit unions remain one of those viable choices. I'm asking that you oppose any efforts to eliminate the federal tax exemption for credit unions.

There are millions of us, working Americans, who are members of credit unions and this would be an additional tax burden on all of us.

Credit unions were created to offer low cost financial services to all of their members, regardless of income. They are still fulfilling this mission today.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Representative David Obey
2314 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515-4907

Dear Rep. Obey:

Consumers deserve a choice among financial providers and we're asking you to see that credit unions remain one of those viable choices. I'm asking that you oppose any efforts to eliminate the federal tax exemption for credit unions.

There are millions of us, working Americans, who are members of credit unions and this would be an additional tax burden on all of us.

Credit unions were created to offer low cost financial services to all of their members, regardless of income. They are still fulfilling this mission today.

Thank you.

Sincerely,